

Probate Court Records Index

Clark County, Arkansas
1819-1878

Special Collections
Ouachita Baptist University

Clark County was one of Arkansas's five original counties, and one of its few counties not to have suffered a courthouse fire. Clark County possesses its entire set of county records, some of which were created in the early 1800s. This index is a comprehensive every-name index of individuals whose names appeared in Clark County Loose Probate Papers, regardless of their activity in the cases. The names are arranged alphabetically, followed by the case number(s). The records contain a variety of spellings of surnames as well as first names. For example, "Wintrop Colbath," "Winthrop Coldbath," "Winthrop Culbreth," and "Wintrop Culbath" are most likely the same person. To improve research results, it is best to check all possible spellings of names. Although efforts were made to eliminate mistakes, a margin for error does exist.
